Boycott Of Meat Sparks Price Cut

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Meat prices dropped today in one of the nation's major supermarket chains, marking the first extensive victory for backers of the nationwide meat boycott.

The Grand Union Co., the nation's 10th largest chain, lowered prices of beef, pork, lamb and veal by at least 10 cents per pound below the ceilings imposed last week by the Nixon administration.

The price reductions are to continue through April.

Plan To Aid

Hanoi Delayed Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plan to ask Congress to aid the rebuilding of North Vietnam "as an incentive to peace" has been delayed indefinitely, according to government sources.

The reasons include charges of North Vietnamese cease-fire violations, unrelenting opposition in Congress, and an inability to pick up tangible support from other capitals for a multinational aid program.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers had planned to send the administration program to Congress by the end of April.

But officials now say that schedule has been thrown out and no new timetable is under consideration.

State Department officials say the decision to hold up on the aid proposal does not mean Nixon is any less committed to a rehabilitation program.

Such help is part of the agreement ending the war, they point out, but even more important is the use of such aid to help build a closer relationship with Hanoi.

Grand Union President Charles G. Rodman made the price trim announcement Thursday and said the action had been "triggered" by the meat boycott.

The Grand Union move failed to spark any major price lowering by other large supermarket chains and the general effect of the boycott throughout the nation ranged from the closing of a major beef packing company in Kansas to no effect at all.

The National Beef Packing Co. said it will close its plant in Liberal, Kan., today and remain closed until the price situation improves.

In New York state, a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture said it's too early to tell the result of the boycott, but he said as of now there was no indication the boycott was biting into beef prices at either retail or wholesale level. However, he did say that some prices among tradesmen are rising.

On the retail market scene, New York State retailers said their sales were down as much as 50 to 80 per cent at some locations.

In Seattle, Safeway Stores Inc., the largest retailer in the area, estimated that meat sales were down about 10 per cent since the boycott began April 1.

But many supermarket officials said meat prices would not be cut until wholesale prices are lowered, despite continuing poor sales.

Many retailers and wholesalers said the full effect of the meat boycott probably will not be known until next week, following the weekend buying.

Under the meat ceiling regulations imposed by President Nixon, retailers must start posting price ceilings for beef, lamb, and pork products near meat counters beginning Monday.

Meanwhile, leaders of Fight Inflation Together (FIT), the organization that provided the major spark for the boycott, said they plan to continue it by refusing to buy meat on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

New Nominee For FBI Director Being Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official, a former Illinois governor and a Los Angeles judge are among those being rumored as possible successor to L. Patrick Gray III as director of the FBI.

President Nixon concluded Thursday night that the Senate would not accept Gray, his first choice, who apparently fell victim to the Watergate bugging case.

Nixon announced from the Western White House that he acceded to a request by Gray and withdrew his name because "it is obvious that Mr. Gray's nomination will not be confirmed by the Senate."

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has not decided on a successor and that the preliminary screening of possible nominees has not even begun.

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, who expressed deep disappointment that Gray was not confirmed, was quoted as saying that the administration has no names lined up as alternative choices.

But during Gray's month-long appearances before the Senate Judiciary Committee, several names were mentioned in Washington rumor mills.

Showdown Set

On Water Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's legislative loyalists say they have a good chance of sustaining his veto of a water program that he claims "has attained a distinct flavor of pork barrel."

The 1965 rural water and sewer grant program was killed by Nixon in January as part of what he called "our determined effort to hold down taxes and combat inflation."

Attacking "a blatant infringement of congressional authority," Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, guided through Congress last month his bill to resurrect the program.

As the House passed it by 297 to 54, Poage said: "When the Senate passes similar legislation, I urge that we vote to override a veto in a resounding fashion—should the President again strike out against this vital program and against the Congress."

The Senate and the President did as Poage expected. On Thursday, Nixon sent the vetoed bill back to the House.

In the first House test of Nixon's veto power this year, Speaker Carl Albert said the vote will come Tuesday and "I think there is a chance" the veto will be overridden.

But Rep. Charles M. Teague, R-Calif., senior GOP member of the Agriculture Committee and a leader of the administration's farm-policy forces, said: "In my opinion, we have an excellent chance to sustain the President's veto."

Ohio Voters Face 7 Amendments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A year ago, Ohio voters were faced with a primary ballot that read like a book. This year, they have seven constitutional amendment proposals to deal with.

The most controversial of the proposals to amend the Ohio Constitution deals with the state lottery.

When voters get inside the booths to voice their decision, they will be faced with this proposition:

—Shall Section 6, Article XV of the Constitution of Ohio be amended to permit the General Assembly to authorize an agency of the state to conduct lotteries, the net proceeds of which shall be paid into the General Revenue Fund of the state?

But before they vote, citizens will be bombarded with arguments from the opponents of lotteries led by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Anti-lottery forces have mounted a $25,000 campaign in comparison with the $3,600 pro-lottery fund. But despite the disparity funds, proponents are confident the amendment will pass 3 to 1—principally on the big city vote.

The other amendment proposals are:

—Shall Section 19 of Article I of the Ohio Constitution be amended to permit the taxing, before payment of private property by public agencies for the purpose of constructing and maintaining sanitary sewers and water lines?

—Shall Section 5 of Article II of the Ohio Constitution, disqualifying convicted embezzlers of public funds from holding any office in this state and preventing any person holding public money for disbursement, or otherwise, from having a seat in the General Assembly until such money is accounted for and paid in to the treasury, be repealed?

—Shall Section 22 of Article IV of the Ohio Constitution, providing for the appointment of a Supreme Court Commissioner, be repealed?

—Shall Section 6 of Article IV of the Ohio Constitution be amended to permit the General Assembly to adopt by concurrent resolution, amendments to the rules governing practice and procedure in all courts of the state, which rules have been prescribed by the Supreme Court?

Heading the rumor list are John Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs; former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois, and U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne of Los Angeles, who is presiding over the Pentagon papers trial.

Also mentioned have been Henry Petersen, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, and

Job Rate Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total number of Americans at work increased sharply in March while the unemployment rate dropped slightly, as the economy continued to expand, the Labor Department reported today.

Total employment rose by 700,000 over the month to an all-time high of 83.9 million on a seasonally adjusted basis, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The total number of unemployed workers edged down to 4.37 million for a seasonally adjusted rate of 5 per cent of the work force. This was down one-tenth of one per cent from February's level, the report said.

The report said the number of workers without jobs last month declined about in line with usual February-to-March movements. The rate has been basically unchanged since last November but had declined by about 700,000 from a year ago.

Gilligan Speaks On Environment

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Enforcement and regulation alone will not clean up Ohio's air and water, Gov. John Gilligan said here Thursday night.

"We must have a cooperative effort by citizens, government and industry if the problems of Ohio's environment are to be solved," Gilligan told an Ohio Environmental Protection Agency symposium.

"Citizens must participate in public hearings and meetings on environmental topics. They should also be active in environmental groups, so they can speak with even more force."

Gilligan said the EPA will conduct symposiums around the state to establish better communications with the citizens.

—Shall Section 6 of Article IV of the Ohio Constitution be amended to provide that judges of all courts established by law shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law and that such compensation shall not be diminished during term?

—Shall Sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II of the Ohio Constitution be amended, new sections 8 and 15 of Article II be enacted, and Sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19 and 25 of Article II be replaced to provide qualifications for members of the General Assembly; to allow each house of the General Assembly to choose its own officers and rules of proceeding; to require annual sessions of the General Assembly and to allow special sessions to be called; and to provide procedures for passing and enacting legislation?

Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson of the District of Columbia. But some administration sources say they doubt Petersen and Wilson would be considered.

The Washington Post today quoted sources as saying that administration officials have sounded out Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman James O. Eastland and Democratic Whip Robert Byrd to see if Petersen and Ingersoll would be acceptable.

Gray said he asked Nixon to withdraw his name because it is "my deep conviction that the FBI, a great and unique American institution of vital service to the president and the American people, is entitled to permanent leadership at the earliest possible time."

The 56-year-old former submarine commander has held the title of acting director since J. Edgar Hoover died last May. He was in deep trouble almost from the beginning in seeking confirmation before the Judiciary Committee because of his actions in heading the FBI's investigation of the bugging and burglary of Democratic headquarters last year.

Mississippi Flood Crisis Stabilizes

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The flood waters of the Mississippi River north of here have started to stabilize and officials say it appears the worst of the flooding is past.

The Mississippi continued to inch toward a record crest of 40.3 feet here. Although that crest is 2.6 of a foot below the original forecast, the Army Corps of Engineers said the revision would not effect its damage estimate of $41 million for the area from Hannibal, Mo., to Cairo, Ill.

More than 1.2 million acres of land were under water from Hannibal to Cairo and nearly 4,000 persons have been forced to leave their homes, the Corps of Engineers said. The death toll across southern Illinois and eastern Missouri stood at five.

Coast Guard reservists were called to active duty to assist in flood control Thursday. The activation of the reservists, authorized by President Nixon under a new law, was the first time ever that Coast Guard reservists have been called to duty during peacetime, a spokesman said.

Hundreds of Missouri National guardsmen have been on duty in flood areas since late last week.

A spokesman for the Corps said late Thursday the situation throughout the St. Louis district seemed to be improving.

"Business in here has slowed up quite a bit tonight," he said. "We've been told not to send out any more volunteers and we've had no more requests for sandbags."

With the river having reached its crest south of Winfield, Mo., Thursday, the critical areas were at Chouteau Island, just north of St. Louis, and Kaskaskia Island, about 100 miles south.

Flood control officials were keeping a close eye on Chouteau Island, where 67 persons remained in their homes. Shifts of 50 workers were being shuttled to Kaskaskia Island every four hours to continue sandbagging operations. Dikes there were reportedly holding against the slowly rising muddy water.

Officials at Winfield, one of the critical spots earlier this week, were cautiously optimistic as the river there fell significantly Thursday.

"We aren't out of the woods yet," said Richard Nieman, a spokesman for the Corps. "The levees are still in terrible condition. If we can hold out for a couple of days more, we will be in fine shape. I think the sunshine Thursday did a lot to boost the morale of the workers on the levees, too."

Administration Stands Firm Against Mandated Price Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has set a vote next week on a rollback of prices, interest rates and rents—and President Nixon's administration is standing firm against any such move.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz drew the administration line Thursday before a Senate subcommittee.

He defended Nixon's ceiling on meat prices, but said "we are not considering imposition of a freeze, ceiling or whatever you call it in other areas."

The House Banking Committee Wednesday wrote the provision for a rollback to the levels of Jan. 10, the end of Phase 2, into legislation to extend the president's economic control powers.

These expire April 30 unless Congress acts. The timetable is tight and Nixon could be confronted, if the legislation is passed, with a last-minute choice between signing a bill to which he objects or seeing the economic authority lapse.

However, the legislation faces a stiff fight in the House and Senate, where Republicans, with some Democratic support, will be trying to trim the measure back to the simple extension Nixon has asked.

The Senate has rejected freeze proposals. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., told Shultz Thursday the margin for rejection has diminished on successive votes and he intends to keep trying to add a freeze provision to bills as they come up.

Shultz, who has said he would not be surprised to see Nixon veto such a measure, declined to be drawn out further, saying he knows Nixon strongly disapproves but would not predict his action.

The kind of freeze proposed in the Banking Committee bill, Shultz said, would be "a catastrophe for the American economy."

"The economy is growing fast..." he said. "If you throw a gigantic monkey wrench into the machinery, you create catastrophe."

As Shultz spoke, the Labor Department was reporting that wholesale prices rose 2.2 per cent in March, the sharpest monthly increase in more than 22 years. Wholesale prices of finished foods climbed at a seasonally adjusted rate of 4.6 per cent, highest on record.

Violet No. 1 Dye Banned;

Alternative Bad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's ban on a purple dye suspected of causing cancer may force U.S. businesses and meat inspectors to fall back on a red dye suspected of interfering with reproduction.

The Food and Drug Administration announced late Thursday that it will prohibit further use of Violet No. 1 in foods, drugs, cosmetics and meat marking.

Thirty-three tons of the color additive were used last year, 30 per cent of it by Agriculture Department inspectors stamping the familiar USDA mark of grade and wholesomeness on meat.

Industry mixed much of the remainder of Violet No. 1 with Red No. 40 as a substitute for Red No. 2, which was linked in recent Russian studies to widespread reproductive problems.

USDA said it will switch to temporary alternative methods of marking, including tags, brands and other colors such as Red No. 2.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied today, reversing a five-day decline. Brokers attributed the recovery to news that unemployment had eased in March and investor hopes the Nixon administration would take tough action to slow inflation.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.08 to 930.54. Advances forged a 7-to-4 lead over declines in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks had climbed .33 points to 58.15 at noon.

Prices also rose on the American Stock Exchange, and the price-change index was up .02 points to 24.07.

Highway Bill Shifts Transit Money Source

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-year, $18-billion highway bill approved by the House Public Works Committee provides an additional $1 billion a year for mass transit, but leaves intact the highway trust fund.

Under the bill reported out Thursday by the committee, mass-transit funds would come from general revenues rather than the $6 billion-a-year highway trust fund.

Rep. Glenn Anderson, D-Calif., leader of House efforts to crack the highway trust fund, called that stipulation "a sham, designed to pay lip-service to mass transit, while continuing to construct more and more highways in areas desperately needing alternatives to the automobile."

A bipartisan group of congressmen seeking to break the trust promised a fight in the closely divided House Rules Committee, which must give prior clearance before such a measure could be offered on the House floor.

A highway bill passed by the Senate would permit cities and states to use their portion of the highway trust fund for mass transit purposes. If the House passes a different version, a conference committee will try to work out a compromise.

The House Public Works Committee approved the highway bill after a three-day markup session open to the public for the first time under new House rules.

The bill includes a new 10,000-mile "junior interstate" system to succeed the present $3-billion-a-year, 41,500-mile interstate expressway program, which now is 80 per cent complete.

McCord Plans Press Meeting On Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — James W. McCord former Nixon re-election security chief, has been granted immunity from prosecution to tell what he knows of an alleged political espionage campaign and the bugging of Democratic national headquarters.

McCord, who was found guilty of conspiracy burglary and illegal wire-tapping for his part in the June 17 break-in and bugging, Thursday said after receiving immunity that he will talk to newsmen before he appears before a Senate panel investigating the Watergate and other 1972 acts of alleged political espionage. Its first hearing likely is to be held next week.

Saying that "the story should be told," McCord told reporters he would meet with them sometime next week in an on-the-record press conference.

McCord appeared Thursday before the grand jury investigating the affair and again invoked the Fifth Amendment in response to such questions as whether he had tried to plant bugs in the campaign headquarters of Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. George S. McGovern.

McCord and four men from Miami were arrested in Democratic headquarters early in the morning of last June 17. They had in their possession electronic eavesdropping equipment.

After the morning session, McCord was taken before U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica who granted McCord immunity and ordered him to answer all questions before the grand jury. He then returned to testify before the panel and is expected to continue testifying today.

Thieu Seeks More Aid From U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu arranged a series of meetings today on post-war aid for his country.

He planned to see PierrePaul Schweitzer, director of the International Monetary Fund; Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth Rush, and Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson.

But the major presentation of his Washington visit came Wednesday with a speech at the National Press Club and talks with leaders of the House of Representatives and Senate.

"Never, never will I ask the United States to send troops back to fight in Vietnam," he said at the press club.

"We cannot guarantee that lasting peace will materialize in the near future because this will have to depend on the other side's earnestness but at least we can answer for ourselves when we say we are more than willing to go halfway to get there," he said.

He also met with congressional leaders after which House Speaker Carl Albert told newsmen there had been no request from Thieu for either military or economic assistance.

Gasoline Shortage Feared By Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government spokesman says gasoline inventories have dropped to their lowest point this year and hinted of possible shortages this summer if refineries do not increase production.

Darrell M. Trent, acting director of the president's Office of Emergency Preparedness, Thursday said gasoline inventories dropped to 212 million barrels and added that U.S. refinery operations last week dropped to 88.7 per cent of capacity.

Hue Defenses Again Attacked

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government today reported more attacks on the defenses around Hue, an artillery attack in the Mekong Delta and continued shelling of a ranger base 50 miles north of Saigon.

"There has been no significant change in the enemy's activity from yesterday to today," one military source said. The Communist attacks had been described Thursday as probing prior to a new offensive.

South Vietnamese casualties of 100 dead and 534 wounded were reported for the past two days. Communist losses were not reported.

Among those killed was a regimental commander, hit during a rocket and mortar attack at Kien Hung, in the delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Five other officers and 16 enlisted men were wounded when a barrage slammed into the regimental headquarters.

In the northern part of the country, more than 300 mortar rounds hit government positions west, northwest and southwest of Hue in a day-long barrage Thursday.

At nightfall, a Communist unit fired 380 rounds at another infantry position six miles west of Hue, then followed with a ground assault. The Saigon command said the attack was beaten back, with one government soldier killed and two wounded.

The ranger camp at Tong le Chan, 50 miles north of Saigon, was pounded with nearly 250 artillery and mortar rounds during the past 24 hours, the command reported. It has been under siege for six weeks, and the command has stopped reporting casualties there. But the last figures given were at least 14 killed and more than 100 wounded.

The International Commission of Control and Supervision discussed the situation at Tong le Chan during a marathon session Thursday. Afterward one source said there appeared to be no way the group could agree to act to stop the Communist attack.

President Pushes Alaska Pipeline

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton says President Nixon has asked him to make every effort to clear the way for construction of the $23-billion Alaska oil pipeline.

Nixon told Morton he feels the trans-Alaska pipeline is vital to the national interest, the Interior secretary said Thursday after a 45-minute conference at the Western White House.

Construction of the 700-mile pipeline, which would link Alaska's Northern Slope with the ice-free port of Valdez to the south, cannot begin without congressional action because present law prohibits granting a right-of-way wide enough to build it. The Supreme Court has refused to review an appeals court decision upholding that law, leaving the matter for Congress to decide.

Great Danes Face Death; Killed Boy

INKSTER, Mich. (AP) — Two Great Danes were to be put to death today following a court ruling the dogs killed an 8-year-old boy.

District Court judge John H. McCartney, who said he made the ruling "for the protection of society," said the city proved the dogs killed David Young, who was found dead March 17. An autopsy showed he died of puncture wounds, one of which cut a major artery.

Although there were no witnesses to the incident, the city attorney produced laboratory reports which matched hairs found on the boy's body and wounds with hairs from the two dogs. A patrolman and laboratory technician also testified the dog's excrement contained pieces of the boy's clothing.

The defense attorney argued there was no positive proof the dogs were responsible and added neighbors merely had seen the dogs in the area. Mrs. James Fonville said her dogs, named Hannibal and Cannibal, were not trained to attack and her husband said the dogs were loose at the time of the boy's death.

Many spectators at the hearing wore cards, later ordered removed by the judge, which supported destruction of the dogs.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Overeater Finds Someone Who Cares

DEAR ABBY: My name is Albert and I am a compulsive overeater. Three years ago I weighed 305 pounds. I was in debt to the tune of $8,000, my marriage was on the rocks, and I was about to lose my job. Overeating was the cause of all my problems, but I didn't know it then.

I had tried reducing clubs three times, diet doctors, quack doctors, shots, pills, and even hypnosis. One diet doctor put me on pills and shots and I lost 100 pounds in seven months. In less than six months I had put it all back on again. (It cost me $1,500.)

Then someone told me about Overeaters Anonymous and I went to a meeting. There were signs all over the place saying, "WE CARE."

Abby, I have never met a more loving, caring bunch of people in my life. I couldn't believe it. The only requirement to join "O.A." is a desire to stop eating compulsively. There are no dues, and nobody is weighed in, or humiliated. You don't even have to attend meetings if you don't want to. I can only tell you that after that first meeting, I felt that God had sent me there.

Today, I weigh 180 pounds, am debt free, have money in the bank, and my marriage is more secure than ever. I've even returned to my church, where I was ashamed to go for years because I felt so unworthy.

Overeaters Anonymous is strictly that. No last names are used, but I will sign mine and you may check me out. That organization has done so much for me I want to let others know about it so they can be born again. Because that's what happened to me.

ALBERT IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR ALBERT: Not only did I check you out, I personally spoke with

Landlord-Tenant Bill Under Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today began initial hearings on a landlord-tenant bill that would give the tenant the legal machinery to enforce repairs.

Discussions on the bill began after the committee, by a 6-3 vote, approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the governor to appoint appellate and Supreme Court judges. It would go before voters in November.

The committee also voted out, 7-1, a resolution that requests Congress to make all federal judges subject to a vote to determine whether they remain in office.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has made it plain that he prefers the television set to me. Several of my women friends have the same complaint. What could be the reason for this?

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Maybe it's because he can turn off the television when he wants to.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 26 years. My wife works by choice, not because she has to.

Every morning she gets up at 5 a.m. Her office hours do not begin until 8 a.m. and we live only 20 minutes from her office, so you see there is no need for her to get up at that hour.

Here is the clincher: She bathes, dresses, and sits in the kitchen playing solitaire from 5:40 until it's time to leave for the office.

It's been the same every morning with the exception of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. Am I married to some kind of nut?

OHIO

DEAR OHIO: What's nutty about your wife's routine if she isn't able to sleep beyond 5 a.m.? If she doesn't disturb you, why complain?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PUZZLED IN HOPE, ARKANSAS:" You are under no obligation to send the price of a gift instead of a gift. People who ask for CASH instead of wedding gifts are presumptuous. (Suggestion: Why don't you and six other people get together and send Amy Vanderbilt's new book on etiquette? I can think of no gift more appropriate.

Gray Loses In Eckhart Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Columbus, lost two ways as majority leader when the Senate voted to oust Henry W. Eckhart as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission.

He lost when a GOP caucus rejected a compromise he had worked out with Gov. John J. Gilligan.

He lost prestige and the backing of his chief lieutenant, Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati.

Without the knowledge of his 16 Republican colleagues, Gray worked out an agreement with Gilligan to keep Eckhart on a six-month probationary capacity.

Maloney, out to get Eckhart's scalp all along, went along with Gray until the majority leader took him to the governor's office and the Cincinnati senator found out Gilligan was principal author of the compromise.

In the party caucus, Maloney gave lip service to Gray while letting it be known he was against the compromise.

He sighed with some relief when the compromise went down.

With Gray and Maloney went two Republican women senators, Clara Weisenborn, R-5 Dayton, and Anice Johnson, R-18 Aurora. Other Republican senators objected.

They objected so strenuously that a few minutes later they returned to the floor and voted unanimously to refuse confirmation. That made the vote 17-16 and Eckhart was out.

"That's the last time I stick my neck out for him," Maloney confided to friends later.

So, Senate insiders see it this way: The Republican senators like Maloney for fighting to oust Eckhart. They admire him for sticking with Gray, the party's leader, in the clutch, however reluctantly.

The senators rebuffed Gray by rejecting his compromise with Gilligan, a blow to his leadership prestige.

As for Eckhart, he went back to a law practice that he said makes $15,000 to $20,000 a year more than the PUCC chairmanship paid.

This seemed to leave Gray the only loser.

Man Arrested With Securities

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Public relations executive Harry Helfgot has been arrested after trying to use securities stolen from a Laguna Niguel bank branch a year ago to negotiate a $100,000 bank loan, the FBI said.

Helfgot, 54, was arrested here Wednesday on a warrant issued in Chicago which charges him with possessing stolen securities, agents said.

He tried to use the securities last week at the Amalgamated Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago through a Chicago attorney, investigators said.

The securities were taken in a burglary of the United California Bank's Laguna Niguel branch on the weekend of March 24, 1972. Bank officials estimated the loss then at $5 million.

New Paris Fashions Are Shown

PARIS (AP) — You don't go looking for surprises at Yves Saint-Laurent.

The fall and winter Rive Gauche collection is simply as pretty as clothes can be. Rive Gauche means Left Bank, and Saint-Laurent's boutique, called Rive Gauche, is on the left bank of the Seine.

Saint-Laurent was the first to put women in pants. And now, even though skirts are back with a vengeance, he hasn't changed his mind.

His pants are straight, wide and cuffed in tweed or gray flannel. They come with those famous long, belted jackets, often in suede, or a long Eskimo parka with a drawstring waist and fur-trimmed hood. You can also have it for gala occasions in black satin.

Otherwise, it's the pleated tweed skirt at the knee with a printed, silk shirt that ties in a bow at the neck and a long, knitted cardigan. The Rive Gauche sweaters are cabled, striped, mottled or nubby in the same shades as the tweeds.

The colors, in fact, are the most beautiful part of the collection and much more cheerful than the serious 1950s shades most designers are fond of. Saint-Laurent mixes green, rust and mustard, gray-blue and royal, plum and mauve or burgundy and coral.

A Page Of Opinion

Half A Compliment

Finally, someone under 30 has been found who doesn't think people lose their smarts as they age. To the contrary, says Dr. John Kangas, 29 and a University of Santa Clara psychologist, there is evidence to suggest an individual's intelligence quotient may increase as he grows older.

Dr. Kangas updated a study which began 42 years ago, in which pre-school children were tested for intelligence. As many of the same group as could be located were again tested in 1941, 1956, 1968 and 1969. The original test produced a mean IQ of 110.7.

By 1956, the mean had risen to 124.1 and by 1969 the average was 130.1. Some may quarrel with the fact that of the original group of 212, only 48 could be found and tested in the most recent reading. Nevertheless, the steady increase in intelligence levels indicated by the tests over the years prompted Dr. Kangas to observe:

"A lot of people feel as they grow older that they're going downhill. This study raises the hope that you can teach an old dog new tricks."

Ouch.

War In Timber Country?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

There seems to be a war coming up between the states of Oregon and Washington over the export of logs to Japan. Senator Robert Packwood of Oregon wants a total ban on the exports by 1977. Bert L. Cole, the Commissioner of Public Lands in Olympia, Wash., says the proposed prohibition would do the lumber industry in the U.S. no good whatsoever, and would, in addition, deal a hefty blow to the economy of his home state. Washington is already suffering from cutbacks in Boeing aircraft production and from the interminable lag in building the pipeline to carry oil from Alaska's

North Slope to Pacific Ocean tidewater for shipment to Seattle and the Puget Sound area.

Senator Packwood listens respectfully to the conservationist Sierra Club, which frowns on tree cutting, period. But beyond this, the Senator is concerned with significant differences between Oregon and Washington. The latter state gets a thriving income from selling logs to Japan. Of the 2.7 billion board feet of logs that were exported from the U.S. in 1972, 2.2 billion, or 82 per cent, were from Washington forests. Oregon exported only 13 per cent of the total. So Washington wishes Oregon would mind its own business.

The trouble on the south side of the Columbia River is that 45.5 per cent of the Oregon lumber mills responding to a homebuilders association survey say they could have used some of those exported logs if they had been able to outbid the Japanese. On the Washington side of the river 35.6 per cent of the mills answering the same homebuilders' survey indicated they had unused capacity. But the shortfall in available timber, according to the big Weyerhaeuser Company, has been statistically negligible north of the Columbia; the Washington mills have, in fact, been operating close to overall capacity even though some of them could have used a few more logs.

In contrast to Oregon, California, and Alaska, the state of Washington depends very little on federally owned forest lands. Only 9 per cent of the logs going to Japan from Washington in 1972 came from national forests. State-owned lands contributed 23 per cent of the Washington export total, with the earned income from this going to support schools and government services. The remaining 68 per cent of log exports were from privately owned forests, which are managed on a most impressive continuous yield basis.

Since four-fifths of the total U.S. log exports originate in the state of Washington, the proposed Packwood ban on timber shipments to Japan would assuredly be fought by the two Washington Senators, "Scoop" Jackson and "Maggie" Magnuson. The state of Washington figures that 8,000 local jobs are directly supported by exporting logs. An export ban would mean unused facilities and a probable defaulting on port-community bond issues. The taxpayers of the state would lose the benefit of the funds that derive from timber exported from the extensive state-owned preserves. Incidentally, much of the revenue now coming from sales to Japan goes back into reforestation and into the intensive use of "culls" and chips, which is the main reason that Washington gets more wood products on a steady basis from less acreage.

Finally, the dollar-returns to the U.S. by the Japanese for logs keep our national balance-of-trade situation from becoming much worse vis-a-vis Tokyo than it is.

In 1909, the American explorer, Robert E. Peary, reached the North Pole.

In 1941, during World War II, German forces began invading Greece and Yugoslavia.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I, like many residents, have received my water and sewage bill for the months of January, February, and March and was quite appalled at the increase in our sewage rates. I called Mr. Taylor and asked for an explanation.

The following was used as an example: If you were paying $2.40 for a three month period, then you were being charged at the rate of $.80 per month whether you used 15,000 gal or 60,000 gals. In that three month period. The new rate will be based on the volume of water used by each home or establishment, which will benefit those who have only one person in the home or the older citizen who does not use as much as a growing family. On paper this looks good. I question the manner in which it was accomplished and I asked Mr. Taylor why it had not been done on a gradual increase year by year. Mr. Taylor told me that at the time he took over in 1969 he felt each year that they would realize the new plant and that they could not have two rate increases in one year.

This is no help to any of us now. A small rate hike each year would not have stunned any of us nearly as bad as this jump, in my case of 795 percent in my sewage bill, and this at a time when water use is at a low level. I contend that since plans were initiated for the new sewage system they have been aware of the costs and that in that time only a small effort was made to inform the public. The Water and Sewage is a public utility. We are paying for it through our rates and also through the Federal Government by our taxes.

The Federal Government is not giving us anything except what we have paid for. Another question running through my mind is what about businesses that are located in the city and are using their own drilled wells. How are their rates going to be established when it is based on the volume of water used. We should have a fair and just system but this applies to everyone.

Maybe this is what it takes to wake us up to our duties as citizens of these United States and in particular those as tax paying citizens of the City of Circleville, we either speak now or forever hold our peace.

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been advised to have my last five remaining teeth removed to pave the way for a denture.

As you can imagine, I hate the whole idea and I wonder if teeth transplants have been tried. Wouldn't this be a way of avoiding cumbersome dentures?

Mr. C.Y., Calif

Dear Mr. Y.:

Good dental surgeons explore every conceivable avenue before recommending that teeth be sacrificed.

Specialists in diseases of the gums (periodontists) actively treat pyorrhea in an effort to preserve the health of teeth. Other specialists concentrate their efforts on root canal work to give teeth every available chance for survival.

Unfortunately, many people pay a penalty for carelessness, neglect, and long-continued poor dental hygiene. When finally they present themselves to dentists, even the combined brilliant new dental techniques cannot overcome years of inadequate care.

Some surgical techniques are being tried in highly selected cases. Metal implants are inserted into the bone; attached to these are artificial teeth. Tooth transplants have not yet been satisfactory.

The poor results and the long protracted complications of some of these techniques have made it difficult for them to pass the critical judgment of impartial dental surgeons and scientists.

The science of restorative dentistry is known as prosthodontia.

Artistry and ingenuity in techniques have been created to utilize all remaining teeth in an effort to avoid total dentures.

Dr. Harold Schwartz, professor of prosthodontia at the New York University School of Dentistry in New York City, has, by his pioneering efforts, opened the horizons for the preservation of teeth that might ordinarily have to be sacrificed.

Dr. Schwartz and his colleagues in this highly specialized field of reconstructive dentistry emphasize that their creativity is limited when there is long-standing, irreversible dental neglect.

It is almost inevitable that, with oncoming age, a certain number of teeth will be lost by infection, poor bite, and by progressive deterioration of the bone.

Even with the loss of some teeth, if problems are brought to the attention of the dentist reconstructive techniques can often restore the dental structure and preserve the remaining teeth for a lifetime.

I've been trying to get some information about a new drug, glucagon. A European friend said it was tried on him with good

Mrs. A.R., R.I

Dear Mrs. R.:

Glucagon is not a drug that can be purchased with or without a prescription. It is a highly complicated hormone that is produced in the pancreas. It is intimately involved in the utilization of sugar.

It is not likely that any condition you have is related to the one for which your friend was given this very specialized substance.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — For everything a man does in this world there are a thousand things he leaves undone or never gets around to trying.

So when you meet anyone who is bored because he feels he's seen everything, done everything worth doing and met everybody worth knowing, you know he's awfully ignorant — or he's an awful liar.

If a fellow feels a bit jaded or fed up with what he does and how he spends his time, he might make a list of things he hasn't got around to doing. It might get him to try to do something new.

Here — right off the top of his head — are a few things one man hasn't got around to doing, for one reason or another:

Put out the fire in a dragon's boiler. Played the "Moonlight Sonata" on a harmonica.

Written an anonymous letter. Begged the issue.

Tried to make a living as a crying towel salesman in Utopia.

Hidden behind a woman's slacks. Raised or lowered the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate.

Rescued a horse from a banker's runaway daughter.

Made love in a helicopter. Salted an abandoned gold mine.

Woke up dewy-eyed. Been able to tell the if a bottle of French wine — or cola, for that matter — with eyes closed.

Sold anything under the counter. Cast a pearl before swine.

Barked up the wrong tree. Traded recipes with a cannibal.

Decided a national election with a last-minute vote.

Taken Dracula to lunch during National Brotherhood Week.

Made much mileage by dating long-distance telephone operators.

Combed a porcupine.

Murder Suspect Turns Self In After Mixup

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old Cleveland man wanted for first-degree murder turned himself into police Thursday, saying he didn't know he was wanted on the charge. Edmund Edge was paroled Jan. 18 from the Ohio Penitentiary where he had been serving time on another charge. Since Edge came home, he got a job and reported to his parole officer weekly, according to his attorney, J. Frank Azzarello.

"He knew nothing about his being wanted here for the trial of murder," said Azzarello. "He wasn't told anything when he was put on parole." When Edge learned that he was wanted, he surrendered to police. He was being held on $250,000 bond. A trial date on the first-degree murder charge was set for June 4.

MR. AND MRS. WESLEY ALLAN JONES

Susan Mathias, Wesley Jones Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, 7:30 p.m. March 23rd, Miss Susan Kay Mathias became the bride of Mr. Wesley Allan Jones in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Columbus.

The Rev. David Orin performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Marvin Mathias, of Columbus, and the late Mr. George Mathias, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Jones, 335 Edwards Road, Circleville.

Organist, Mrs. Michael Whitehead; trumpet soloist, Mr. David Lyons; vocalists, Miss Manette Brockhoven, Mrs. Edwin Brockhoven and Mr. Kenneth McLaughlin presented a program of music preceding the ceremony. Included were the selections: "We've Only Just Begun" sung by Miss Brockhoven, "The Lord's Prayer" by Mr. McLaughlin, "Prayer From Alcest" by Mrs. Brockhoven and Mr. McLaughlin, and a trumpet solo "For All We Know" by Mr. Lyons.

On the altar were two tall white candles and two long stemmed yellow roses which were presented to the mothers during the ceremony. Candles graced all the windows and a candelabra was on the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John Oyler. Her gown, made by her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Frick of Columbus, was of white crepe designed with a high empire waist, Juliet sleeves, full chapel length detachable train tied in a bow in the front and edged in lace flowing softly over the formal length skirt. The bride wore a Camelot style cap enhanced with lace and pearl beading and daisy appliques holding her bouffant nylon veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses surrounded by nylon net with streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Ermajean Thomas of Columbus, was matron of honor. She wore a full length gown of delustered rayon chiffon with a bow trimming the waistline. Ruffles, lace and rosettes accented the bodice with a stand-up collar. For her headpiece she wore a butterfly net in gold, matching the skirt of her gown. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses with matching streamers.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Steven Roush of Columbus, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Judith Link of Columbus, a friend of the bride and Miss Kelley Jones of Circleville, sister of the groom. They were dressed as the honor attendant with orange skirts and matching butterfly veils. Their bouquets were of yellow and orange mums centered with yellow roses, orange net backing and orange velvet streamers. The bouquets, corsages, flower arrangements and pew bows were all made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Clara Howard of Columbus.

Flower girl was Miss Tracy Smith, cousin of the bride. She was attired in a full length gown and carried a basket of yellow and orange mums.

Mr. David Kasler of Circleville, performed the duties of best man for his friend. Ushers were Mr. Steven Roush, brother-in-law of the groom; Mr. Ralph Howard, cousin of the bride, both of Columbus; Mr. Steven Jones, Circleville, brother of the groom and Mr. Stephen Mathias of Columbus, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mathias selected a formal length gown of coral with beige accessories. Mrs. Jones wore a formal length gown of yellow with black and white accessories. The mothers both wore corsages of white mums and red sweetheart roses.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The five tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow and orange roses and topped with a gold cross. The cake and punch bowls were surrounded with yellow and orange mums and fern.

Hostesses were Miss Marilyn Yeager of Marietta, Miss Cindy Jacks, Miss Linda Walker, Miss Terri Johnson and Miss Marianne Mathias, all of Columbus. Miss Linda Walker presided at the guest book.

The new Mrs. Jones is a 1970 graduate of South High School in Columbus. She is a junior at the Ohio State University in Columbus, majoring in elementary education and is employed by Johnson Jewelers of Columbus.

Mr. Jones graduated from Circleville High School in 1969. He is a junior at the Ohio State University majoring in speech and communication education and is employed as a broadcaster for radio station WMNI in Columbus.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Circleville, Marietta, Washington C.H., New Holland,

'Our Responsibility To The Rule Of Law' Program Topic For Pickaway Plains DAR

Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution held its March meeting in the social rooms of the First English Lutheran Church in Ashville.

Mrs. Joseph Peters, regent, opened the chapter in ritualistic form with the chaplain, Mrs. R. Roe Bales assisting. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Mrs. Daniel Eitel. The chapter sang the first stanza of the "Star-Spangled Banner" accompanied by Mrs. Martin Cromley. Mrs. Peters read portions of the President General's message.

Mrs. Judd Dresbach, chairman of National Defense gave her report. Mrs. Dresbach reviewed an address by Leon Jaworski, president of the American Bar Assoc., delivered to the Christian Life Commission Seminar, New York City. His subject was, "Our Responsibility To The Rule Of Law."

Quoting directly from Mr. Jaworski's speech, "When Alexis de Tocqueville, sojourner in our Country in the first half of the 19th century, he studied the workings of a democracy to determine what made it tick. When he returned to his country, he wrote, among other things, about America's greatness in these words: 'I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her commodious harbors and ample rivers and it was not there. 'I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her fertile fields and boundless forests, and it was not there.

"I sought for the greatness and the genius of America in her rich mines and her vast world commerce, and it was not there. 'I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her public school system and her institutions of learning and it was not there.

"I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her democratic congress and her matchless constitution, and it was not there. 'Not until I went into the churches of America and heard her pulpits flame with righteousness did I understand the secret of her genius and power.

"America is great because America is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

"In contemplating de Tocqueville's observations, there crossed my mind a panorama of the great contributions religious institutions have made in the shaping of the spirit of America. From the time the Pilgrims first knelt on American soil to give thanks to God for his guidance and to invoke his blessings in their new adventure, the church has played an integral part in directing this nation's destiny."

"Today, the church faces a new and different challenge for our nation is in the throes of a crisis unlike any in its history. It is not because of the war, although we are at war. It is not because of threats to our economy, although there are problems of an economic nature. It is not because of racial divisiveness, although it is an issue so far unresolved. It is not because of the increase per se in what we term traditional crime-murder, robbery, burglary and other crimes condemned since the beginning of civilization- although the trend is shocking and frightening, to be sure.

Westerville, Dublin and Columbus.

Special guests were grandmothers: Mrs. Hattie Shadley of New Holland and Mrs. Alice Frick of Columbus.

The couple now resides at Route 1, Lockbourne.

Rather it is a crisis stemming from an attitude formed in recent years among both young and old, of all races, that it is unnecessary in our society to be unwaveringly respectful of law; it is critical because, from this attitude, ever-increasing disobediences of law have been spawned, so as to strain the law as never before. It is grave because a substitute of disobediences as a means of redress in lieu of the democratic processes that have sustained us for almost 200 years plainly could spell the end to our form of government."

"Finally this Commission unanimously warned: We believe, however, that candid examination of what is occurring in the United States today will lead to the conclusion that disobedience to valid law as a tactic of protest by discontented groups is not contributing to the emergence of a more liberal and humane society, but is, on the contrary producing an opposite tendency."

"There are many who profess to have grievances. Some are real and some imaginary. The farmer has his, the teacher his, the blue collar worker his, the wage-earner his and the wage-payers theirs, the white collar pensioner his and a group of tax-payers theirs, and if we are all going to defy laws to get our complaints redressed, anarchy will sweep our country."

"The simple truth is that there is not a single worthy social or political gain that an interested citizenry cannot gain by resort to democratic processes. This is the first commandment of citizenship the church should teach. If churchmen believe a needed reform should be instituted, why not put the church's full resources to work to accomplish it in a manner consistent with democratic processes? Why are not the pulpits "afame with righteousness" and why don't Christian soldiers call on public officials or march to the ballot box to achieve the needed gains? Or is it that the church has become so impotent that it sits indolently by while youths are taught by the example of their elders to take the short-cut of lawlessness to achieve quick gains and in the process trample on our institutions of government?"

Today's American scene reveals a threat to the efficacy of court orders and a disrespect of constituted authority that should alarm every minister of the gospel, every worshiper of God, every devotee of religious freedom. It takes no depth of wisdom to realize that once the bonds of law are frayed and weak, court orders and other legal restraints correspondingly will lose their weight and force.

"The church cannot fail to take note of the modern day forms of disobediences rampant about us. Neither can it fail to do something about it and still retain its prestige as a force that contributes to the stability of the community. A nation in crisis can scarcely afford its undergirding institutions to be timid or hesitant."

"The despicable ideology of Nazism did not grip Germany overnight. It came as a cancerous growth which by easy stages substituted wrong and evil for freedom and human dignity. As Edmund Burke warned-"All that is needed for the forces of evil to win is for enough good men to do nothing." And, in fact to paraphrase Burke's admonition, there were enough good men and enough good women in Germany who, during the growth of Nazism, did nothing. They disapproved of what they saw, but as they did nothing about it, the wrongs escalated from day to day. Once the strangle hold of Nazism was applied to free institutions of Germany and the schools were poisoned, the churches silenced and the courts prostituted, the freedoms of protest and resistance were annihilated and the voices of good men and women were lastingly stilled.

Abraham Lincoln, in urging the upholding of law and the renouncing of violations by others, put it this way: "Let it be taught in the schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in courts of justice."

In concluding his address, Mr. Leon Jaworski said, "From what I have said it is easy to perceive that I am critical of the church's role of leadership today and I feel that it has not discharged its responsibility to the rule of law. Were the church not dear to my heart, I would not speak of it so. It has been a meaningful part of my life from the time of my birth in a parsonage to the present day.

Dual Rolls-Royces

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York state auto dealers are offering for sale "his and hers" Rolls Royce limousines. The asking price: $250,000 the pair.

Michael Shudroff, the owner of Manhattan's Carriage House Motor Cars Ltd., said his firm and Palmyra Motors Inc. of Rochester have already had 10 inquiries about the Phantom V limousines.

The "his" car is a four-door, seven-passenger vehicle with virgin lamb's wool carpeting, matched deep-burl walnut liquor cabinets containing Waterford crystal, a quadrasonic music system and an electric sunroof over the rear compartment.

The "hers" car is a two-door also equipped with walnut liquor cabinets, Waterford crystal and the music system. It features blonde mink rugs.

Mrs. Florence Baker Presents
Program For Bible Class

Westminster Bible Class of First Presbyterian Church met recently in the home of its president, Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, Route 104.

Mrs. Charles Stevenson called for the usual order of business. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Lawrence Thornton and Mrs. Florence Baker for their efforts in buying and hanging new drapes in the class meeting room of the church.

A request was made for volunteers to bake pies for the supper to be served to people attending a Teachers Training Session at the church on April 29th. Correspondence was read and Easter cards for shut-ins were signed.

For the program Mrs. Florence Baker read several articles. They included one by Irma Brombeck, "Where Is Joy?" particularly adaptable to the church family; "Mission in Japan" defining the changing attitudes through the last wars and up to the present time.

Find Money
In Rubble

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati police have uncovered $579 lost in the gas explosion which killed seven last Saturday night and a pistol — but not the pistol they are looking for.

The loot was recovered from a piano buried under the collapsed roof of a church after the minister reported its whereabouts.

The money, including $24 in change was found in a small cardboard container and the minister was personally escorted to a bank by Edwin Fenstermacher, area supervisor for Cincinnati's Building Department.

The gun turned out to be a toy, not the one police feel led to the explosion when a bullet hit a gas meter.

Police are still seeking the man who sold the gun to the bartender. Prior to the explosion, the bartender reportedly fired several bullets in the basement to test the weapon.

Junior Volunteers
Set Own Blazes

SAXIS, Va. (AP) — Five junior volunteers of the Saxis Volunteer Fire Department in northern Accomack County have been charged with arson by state arson investigators.

Arson investigators said Wednesday the five, all 17 years old, were charged with setting two separate fires here last month.

Saxis Fire Chief Charles Tull, 26, said the arrests Tuesday and Wednesday were a "shock," and may result in "our doing away" with the junior fireman program.

On Books And Activities At The Library

"Once upon a time . . ." are words which may trigger many childish memories of fairy princesses and princes, wicked witches, animals that talk, and lovers that live happily ever after. For a delightful look into this world of the imagination, "Once Upon a Time: The Fairy Tale World of Arthur Rackham", edited by Margery Darrell presents a selection of classic tales. These tales are accompanied by some of the outstanding illustrations done by Arthur Rackham during the height of his artistic endeavor. Included in this edition are several tales from the Brothers Grimm, some of the fables of Aesop, selections from Rip Van Winkle, Alice in Wonderland, and Peter Pan. These stories and illustrations are for the young in heart of any age who delight in fairy tales or who like to read aloud to the younger generation.

From the fairy land of the imagination to a real fairy land of flowers is easy only when we are discussing books. Several new volumes of the Time-Life Gardening Encyclopedia came in this week. They are "Flowering Shrubs," "Evergreens," "Flowering House Plants," "Trees," "Lawns and Ground Covers," "Foliage Plants," "Landscape Gardening" and "Perennials." These attractive books contain authoritative information, excellent photographs and artistic watercolor prints.

Other new books to interest gardeners are "The Complete Book of Garden Ornaments, Complements, and Accessories" by Daniel J. Foley and "Flower Arrangement: The Ikebana Way" edited by Dr. William C. Steere. There are also new Sunset Paperbacks on various aspects of gardening and lawn care. For the convenience of prospective gardeners, these books may be found in a special collection in the main lobby. Joy Rae, Children's Librarian, did the attractive display of butterflies and daisies to mark the spot.

Those desiring a different form of artistic expression may find help in some of the new books on painting techniques and sculpture. Titles for budding artists are: "Painting Outdoors" by Ralph Fabri; "Painting Techniques of the Masters" by Howard Lester Cooke; "Acrylic Painting for the Beginner" by Frederick Taubes; "Painting in Opaque Watercolor" by Rudy de Regna; "Complete Guide to Acrylic Painting" by Wendon Blake; "Painting with Oils" by Warren Brandt; "Fundamentals of Oil Painting" by Leonardo ricnmona; "Beginners Guide to Water Colour Painting" by Barbara Dorf; and "How to Paint Portraits in Pastel" by Joe Singer.

New for hobbyists are: "Practical Carving in Wood, Stone, Plastics & Other Materials" by Robert Dawson; "Practical Sculpture: Creating with Plastic Media" also by Dawson; "Slate and Soft Stone Sculpture" by Frank Eliscu; "Designer Furniture Anyone Can Make" by William E. Schremp; "America's Quilts and Coverlets" by Carleton L. Safford; and "The Dictionary of World Pottery and Porcelain" by Louise Ade Boger.

In the midst of life and beauty, death and destruction intrude. For hunters and gun-hobbyists, new books include "Home Gun Care & Repair" by P. O. Ackley; "Hunting Upland Birds" by Charles F. Waterman; "The Expert's Book of Shooting Sports" by David E. Petzal; "Gun Digest, 1973 Edition"; "Hobby Gunsmithing" by Ralph T. Walker; and "Guns Illustrated 1973" edited by Joseph J. Schroeder Jr.

"Why is there a new surge of interest in death?" ask Robert Kasterbaum and Ruth Aisenberg in the "Psychology of Death." They suggest several answers — because we now face the prospect of mass death — The Bomb; because we are less isolated from violent death — television; because we have more "mental healthers" who have been through the mill; because simple faith in material progress is on the ebb; because we suspect that our very way of life has lethal components — pollution.

If you are still in a grim mood, "Death on the Ice" by Cassie Brown is the story of one hundred and twenty seal hunters who were stranded for two days and nights on an ice field floating in the North Atlantic in winter. The destruction and loss of life in "The Campaign for Guadalcanal" is a dim memory for many. Jack Coggins recreates the scene in pictures and words. Of special interest to World War II buffs.

Perhaps you can overcome a depressed mood by looking through "Transportation through the Ages" by G. N. Georgano or "The Complete Cat Encyclopedia" edited by Grace Pond. If not, escape with a new mystery, western or Gothic. A few new titles are: "A Palm for Mrs. Pollifax" by Dorothy Gilman; "Murder Remote" by Janet Caird; "What Did I Do Tomorrow?" by L. P. Davies; "Hassle and the Medicine Man" by Clifton Adams; "The Tired Gun" by Lewis B. Patten, and others.

Argentine Leader Rips Terrorists

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentina's military government vows that terrorist kidnapping and assassination will not block the inauguration of a Peronist president on May 25.

"Nothing and no one will stop the process which climaxed with the March 11 election," the ruling junta said after the slaying Wednesday of an army intelligence specialist, the fourth major terrorist crime in a week.

"The decision of the people will be respected at any price, and the government will be delivered to the new authorities on May 25."

However, the navy, in a separate announcement, said the incoming Peronist regime "should define itself clearly" on the issues of terrorism and guerrillas.

As part of their election strategy, Peronist candidates said guerrilla violence was justified because of the "military's violence" during its seven years in power. Thousands of young radicals and four groups of left-wing guerrillas supported the Peronists, but Peronist leaders say those guerrilla groups ceased their terrorist activities after the election.

President-elect Hector J. Campora met Wednesday night with Interior Minister Arturo Mor Roig, but neither issued a statement afterward.

In addition to the killing Wednesday of Col. Hector Alberto Iribarren, two businessmen and a retired admiral have been kidnapped in the past week by persons who identified themselves as members of leftwing guerrilla groups.

Some observers believe that the increase in leftist terrorism is an attempt to provoke the military into remaining in power with the hope that this would provoke a Peronist uprising and chaos which the Communists could take advantage of. Others believe the guerrillas are trying to foment an open break between the Peronists and the army over the Peronists' campaign promise of amnesty for political prisoners.

Gilligan Greatest Asset To GOP, McGough Claims

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Gov. John Gilligan is the greatest asset the Republican Party has in 1974, newly-elected state TOP chairman Kent McGough said today.

"I think this administration is vulnerable," he said. He expects Ohioans to remember "little things" such as the closing of state parks. State spending will be another issue.

"There is a great concern by the people as to whether or not they're getting a dollar's worth of government for a dollar's worth of taxes," he said. "It is purported that there is a lot of waste in government."

The biggest problem in the elections will be trying to convince the people that the GOP is unified. Although he said the division of the Republican Party is more "fictional than functional," McGough said. "The major thrust . . . should be to bring all parts of the party together."

He said that might not be the case in the primaries. But he added that he hoped there would be a "consensus candidate" for the general election.

McGough hopes to see Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, on the ticket either running for reelection or for the gubernatorial seat. "I don't know if he will," he said.

McGough said the party demonstrated it could be unified when the central committee elected him chairman Thursday.

The Lima insurance executive defeated Cuyahoga County GOP Chairman Robert E. Hughes 31-14.

After the secret ballot had been taken, Sen. Robert Taft Jr. proposed that McGough's selection be unanimous. The proposal was quickly approved.

The state committee also upped the annual salary of the chairman from $20,000 to $30,000, added a leased car, and agreed to contribute $6,000 a year toward McGough's Columbus living quarters.

He will maintain his home in Lima.

Joan Baez Won't Pay

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Singer Joan Baez will refuse to pay part of her federal income taxes again this year to protest military spending even though American troops have left Vietnam, her business manager says.

"She's a pacifist and she's always protested the amount spent on arms," Roy Kepler of Menlo Park, Calif., said Wednesday in a telephone interview.

He said Miss Baez has refused for the past eight years to pay the percentage of her income tax she figures corresponds to the amount of military spending in the federal budget.

In past years, the Internal Revenue Service has collected the amount it figures is owed by Miss Baez, usually by attaching her bank account, he said.

The singer is due to return from a European tour next week and will help him write a letter to the IRS explaining her refusal to pay all her income tax, Kepler said.

Spiritual Power Felt By Returnees

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

In the isolation of the Vietnam war prisons, minds and consciousness turned inward, and there, cut off from the ordinary distractions of life, the American captives made a discovery.

"For some reason I suddenly felt I wasn't alone," one of them recalls. "I don't know whether it was the power of prayer or an intervention by God. There is nothing physical you can document, but when you experience something like that, it is real."

Those recollections of Capt. James E. Ray, of Conroe, Tex., and similar accounts by many others of the returned prisoners of war regularly cited unexpected powers of faith and prayer that welled up to sustain them. "I developed a daily routine," relates Lt. Cmdr. William M. Tschudy, of Virginia Beach, Va., in remembering long stretches of solitary confinement in which he became aware of realities in himself he had never imagined.

"I shouldn't say I developed it; it developed itself. When I woke up each morning, the first segment of the day was spent saying my prayers."

A dramatic description of surprising strength found in faith came from Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton in Atlanta. He tells of escalating torture to get him to betray communication methods used among prisoners. After five days in a "torture rig" he says, he wrote something useless for his captors "but they didn't buy it." He goes on:

"They put me back in the same rig for five more days and that was the time I simply told God He would just have to take over. I had reached the end. I knew that if I had to write the next time, I would write something harmful, so I just turned myself over to Him.

"I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life. As soon as I got that prayer out, this mantle of comfort came over me and I couldn't feel any more pain. Even when they beat the hell out of me and tightened up right to the maximum, I was just as comfortable as if I were sitting in a plush auto."

He and others say they believe that spiritual help, attained through prayer, was the basic element in bringing them through their ordeal. "I was able to sustain life and hope through the faith I have in God," Capt. Howard Rutledge told his home Baptist congregation at Clairemont, Calif.

Others told of improvising worship services, exchanging remembered verses of Scripture, and putting together key portions of the Bible through memory.

"Many of the men knew verses from the Bible and these were shared, so we were able to compile a good knowledge of much of the Bible," relates Maj. Norman McDaniel, of Greensboro, N.C.

"There is no greater force than belief in God," he adds. "There were at all times a desire to worship God. There were services held, sometimes individually, sometimes as a group, and men drew strength from them."

The bulk of Australia's exports to Canada traditionally have been food products, particularly meat, sugar and fruit.

Withholding Of Welfare Cash Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has changed its mind on a threat to withhold half a billion dollars a year in federal welfare funds from states with ineligible or overpaid recipients.

The changes will give states a new 18-month timetable beginning next year to correct errors in the Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) program, the government said Wednesday.

As originally proposed last year, penalties for overpayment and ineligibility would have begun this year.

Frank C. Carlucci, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, said the administration was conceding that the original timetable "was not realistic." He said the administration was not retreating on the principle that errors must be reduced.

Thirty-four states had retained a prestigious Washington law firm and had threatened to sue in an attempt to block the original proposal.

Under the new regulations, states will be given three six-month target deadlines beginning next Jan. 1 to reduce errors. Failure to meet a target would result in a proportionate loss of federal money for that period.

States will be allowed error rates of 3 per cent for ineligibility cases and 5 per cent for overpayment cases. The original proposal would not have permitted any error tolerance.

The Trusting Soul

MEMO

You are the parents God has given him!
He is the child God has given you!
For a while you will be moulding his character . . .
building his faith . . .
enriching his soul . . .
After that, these spiritual responsibilities will be up to him.
But while the trust is yours to fulfill,
remember he's a trusting soul.
So you and he need what the Church exists to provide.

Turk New PUCO Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Edmund J. Turk, president of the Cleveland City Council, was appointed a member and chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio Thursday by Gov. John J. Gilligan.

Turk, a 48-year-old Democrat, will fill the unexpired term of Henry W. Eckhart, whose appointment was rejected by the Senate last week.

Turk will receive an annual salary of $25,168, Gilligan said.

"I am pleased that a man of Mr. Turk's public service background has consented to serve in this vital position," Gilligan said. "His long experience as an attorney and public official has displayed his concern for the people—a most important qualification in this position which affects every consumer in the state."

McGough Heads GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Kent B. McGough, 55, a Lima insurance man, was named chairman of the Ohio Republican Party Thursday, succeeding John S. Andrews.

McGough's selection came at a meeting of the 46-member State Central and Executive Committee here. There were 45 members present.

McGough's had been the leading contender for the $20,000-a-year post. He currently is treasurer of the state party.

Andrews resigned to take a job with Owens-Illinois Corp., in Washington, D. C. He said he would stay with the organization long enough to familiarize the new chairman with the job.

There had been reports that McGough would face a battle from Robert L. Hughes of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County chairman. McGough was in line for the chairmanship in 1965, but lost to Andrews when then Gov. James A. Rhodes gave Andrews his support.

Retirement Planned In Advance Is Most Successful, Rotary Told

To make the best of his retirement years, a man must not only have something to do, but he must do something he is proud to do and can do well and be able to give him recognition.

These points were stressed in the film recording of Leon F. Montague's address "Turned Out To Grass" which was presented Thursday at the Rotary meeting.

Montague offers advice on planning a retirement to assure a man of a full and useful life "after" the gold watch and party. Montague himself retired at age 65 to find that his lawn was his "Gold Mousetrap" and opened the door to a new career with Scotts, the grass people.

In his interviews with people in 41 states who had licked or been licked by the problems of retirement, Montague noted these signposts:

If you aren't happy where you are, you are not likely to be happy anywhere. A different climate and different neighbors are not the answers.

Uselessness is a shock the retiree cannot long endure. Boredom kills more retirees than anything else.

Get off the bench and out of the rocker; exercise body and mind, for it is use it or lose it.

Be active in church, community and political life. Do something for others.

A sound financial program is needed but money alone is not enough.

X-ray yourself to seek what it is that you have long wanted to do, or what hobby, or what aspect of community service, or what interest in the field of fine arts, or what mechanical urge, you have had, or now have, which could be your ideal retirement activity.

Begin now. Take time to develop your special interests and talents so that when retirement day comes you will be prepared to retire TO something, not FROM something.

Most of all, Montague noted, a man must do something that will give him the joy and satisfaction of knowing he is doing something for others. This, he said, is one of the paramount requirements for a happy and rewarding retirement.

Bob McKelvey thanked all Rotary members for their active participation in the auction for the benefit of Crippled Children and Brooks-Yates School. This project realized $1,063.50 which will aid both programs.

Guests Thursday were: Fred Reichert, Harry Blank, Art Steele. Next week, Bud Enoch will tell of his recent trip to Europe won through a farm program.

Major Pro Football Changes Voted Down By Club Owners

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — National Football League owners have decided to leave game rules much the same for another year.

At the annual NFL meeting here Thursday, the owners turned down all major rule changes proposed, including measures which would have allowed a sudden-death period to decide ties and a two-point conversion option after touchdown.

"The owners felt there was an advantage in ties," explained commissioner Pete Rozelle. "Many of those voting felt that ties kept the races tight as in the case of Oakland and Kansas City last season where the race bounced back and forth."

"There was also the feeling that the tension of the last few minutes of regulation game might be diluted by a sudden-death period."

Rozelle said about half of those voting supported either the sudden-death or the two-point conversion. Voting on the questions was not as rigidly fixed among old league lines as shown in previous years, according to the commissioner.

The owners did vote to make movement between inactive and active squads easier when they eliminated the fixed number of moves a team could make in bringing players to the parent club. The owners kept a 40-player limit with seven inactive players, but dropped the regulation 12 transfers, which was the limit until this year.

A close defeat was suffered by a

Braves Reserves

Stop Westfall

Steve Rawlins and Derek Morris combined to pitch a one hitter as the Logan Elm reserve squad stopped Westfall, 6-3, Thursday on the Braves' diamond.

Rawlins went the first four innings, allowing one hit, and eight walks while striking out nine. Morris hurled the last three, giving up no hits, four walks and fanned eight.

Rick Shannon was on the hill for the Mustangs. He allowed four hits, walked nine and whiffed 11. His single was the only hit for Westfall.

Jeff Reichelderfer had a double and Morris, Mark Zwyer and Ron Palmer each had a single to account for the Braves' hits.

Logan Elm is now 2-0 for the season and will be at Unioto 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Baron C Direct was second, paying $3.20 and $2.80. Fair Manor showed at $4.

The 1-5 combination of Chiller Diller and Simon B. paid $18.60 on the daily double.

Coach Fired On Opening Day

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

President Nixon will not throw out the first ball when the major league baseball season gets into full swing today, but lovable Leo Durocher upstaged him anyway by throwing out the first coach.

Oh, the sports-loving President will be on hand at Anaheim Stadium, near the Western White House, when the California Angels entertain the Kansas City Royals tonight, but he'll hand the ball, not toss it. He'll hand it to Air Force Maj. David Luna, a former POW, and HE'LL throw it.

Meanwhile, Durocher shuffled his coaching staff by firing Jim Owens, the club's pitching coach since 1967. Hub Kittle, a Houston coach since 1971, will handle the pitchers while Bob Lillis, a player with the original 1962 Astros and director of minor league instruction since his retirement following the 1967 season, will fill the vacancy on the coaching staff.

"Durocher said he wasn't completely happy with the pitching situation and thought a change was in order," explained General Manager Spec Richardson.

The season actually got under way Thursday with the traditional early opener in Cincinnati, where the San Francisco Giants defeated the defending National League champion Reds 4-1 behind the seventh hit pitching of Juan Marichal. Chris Speier's two-run single in the seventh inning capped a tiebreaking three-run uprising.

Today's American League schedule also finds the New York Yankees at Boston and Milwaukee at Baltimore in afternoon action and the Chicago White Sox at Texas and Minnesota at Oakland under the lights.

In National League day games, St. Louis is at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at the New York Mets and Montreal at the Chicago Cubs. After dark, it's Houston at Atlanta and Los Angeles at San Diego.

That will leave the AL's Detroit at Cleveland on Saturday in the final opener. The Indians closed out the exhibition schedule Thursday by no-hitting the Texas Rangers 4-0 behind the pitching of Steve Dunning, Mike Kilkenny, Ray Lamb and Milt Wilcox.

Nixon's visit will mark the first time a chief executive will attend a season inaugural in a city other than Washington. The President deferred throwing out the first ball to Maj. Luna of nearby Orange, who pitched the first no-hitter on record at Orange High School in 1958.

The Angels, under new Manager

Bobby Winkles, will send fireballing Nolan Ryan, the major leagues' strikeout leader with 329 last year, against Kansas City rookie Steve Busby, the choice of Jack McKeon, the Royals' new skipper.

The most emotional opener will be in Pittsburgh, where the Pirates will open without the late and legendary Hall of Famer Roberto Clemente in right field but with Willie Stargell surprisingly back in left.

Catcher Manny Sanguillen, a close pal of Clemente's, will be in right field for the Pirates with Clemente's widow, mother and children in the stands.

Most of the events will be concentrated around the gym and cafeteria areas. Girls' track and tug-of-war, however, will be conducted outside, weather permitting.

Come and cheer the Circleville contestants to victory, and be there when CHS adds another trophy to the already bulging glass cases.

MRS. SHIRLEY WYLIE
Nicholas Drive

The teacher featured this week by the Red and Black staff is Mrs. Shirley Wylie, who resides at 369 Markley Drive with her husband Richard, and son David. She has two other children, Tom, who attends Earlham College, and Carole, at Marietta College.

Mrs. Wylie attended Bowling Green State University, where she obtained her bachelor's degree, and then went to the University of Toledo and got her Master of Education in Special Education. She is presently continuing work in learning disabilities at Ohio State.

At Nicholas Drive School, she teaches an ungraded class which includes children from grades one through four. This special class is for youngsters with average or above average intelligence who have learning disabilities.

Mrs. Wylie's teaching encompasses 20 years of full time, part time, and substitute work, ranging from one rural school with grades one through twelve to the largest and one of the most innovated high schools in the state, Whitmer High School in Toledo.

Asked about her work, she replied, "I feel that it is imperative that a teacher recognize that individual differences exist among students. Recognizing these differences, the teacher can help each student approach maximum learning within his own capabilities."

"Learning is change—behavioral change in the student and motivation are probably the most basic elements of learning. Keeping this in mind, I think that the school learning experience can be effective, lasting, and enjoyable for all students."

She also added, "To see the light of understanding in a child's eyes, especially after the child has known frustration and failure is the greatest reward a teacher can experience."

Following a suggestion from adviser Mrs. Breggle, CHS Latin Club has been working on a weekend trip to St. Louis. Now, after being approved by the school board, the club, under president (consul) Cynthia Pike, is making final preparations for the trip to take place May 4, 5 and 6.

The 30-member Olympian Council will leave Circleville by bus about 4 a.m. on the fourth and upon arriving, check into the Bel Air West Hotel.

First stop on the day's touring agenda will be the Planetarium. The Huck Finn Riverboat and the Riverfront Arch will be toured on Friday. On Saturday they will visit the St. Louis Art Museum, the Jewel Box and the St. Louis Zoo. A special dinner will be scheduled for that evening.

'Hard-Annie' Plays At Hi-Y Dance

By DON GOELLER

Approximately 145 persons attended the March 31 Hi-Y dance, with music by Hard Annie.

The group, with Skip McCabe on bass, Tom Caruso, lead guitar, and Rob Gans on drums, combined for a rock-and-roll and blues fusion with beautiful results.

In only their first get-together and after two practices, Hard Annie performed many familiar numbers, including two Eric Clapton tunes, "Crossroads" and "Badge," Grand Funk's "Inside Looking Out" and the Stones' "Jumping Jack Flash."

Free refreshments were served at the event, which was held in the CHS cafeteria, under the direction of Mr. Gruesser, Hi-Y advisor.

New PUCO Chief Keeps Cleveland Ties

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland City Council President Edmund J. Turk, named to head the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, said he plans to take a strong sense of responsibility for consumers into the office.

"I think that's especially important in these days when the cost of everything has been going up," Turk said. In the $25,000-a-year position, Turk will chair the three-member commission which regulates the state's utilities and sets their rates. "I leave with some regrets," he said. "My roots are here in Cleveland. But I think the job offered me is a challenging one. I think it'll keep me

Fair Skies Seen

Over Wide Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies prevailed over most of the nation today, but there were damp exceptions scattered from Texas to northern Maine.

A storm in Mexico spread occasional rain over southwest and south-central Texas. Snow or rain fell in and to the east of the northern Rockies. Stockmen's and travel advisories were posted for parts of Montana.

Showers also touched areas from South Dakota to the western Great Lakes region, and scattered snow whitened the northern reaches of the Great Lakes. Sault St. Marie, Mich., accumulated an inch overnight.

Light snows also dusted northern Maine.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 at Flagstaff, Ariz., and Las Vegas, N.M., to 73 at Key West, Fla.

Blizzard Loss Heavy For Colorado Cattle

SPRINGFIELD, Colo. (AP) — State Agriculture Commissioner Clinton Jeffers says the three-day blizzard which swept southeast Colorado last week killed an estimated 10 per cent of the state's cattle.

After a 700-mile aerial tour of the storm area Wednesday, Jeffers said the cattle loss will be about 10,000 animals. The dollar loss to ranchers will be some $3 million, he said.

happy and occupied."

The 40-year-old attorney, a Cleveland native, first became a councilman by appointment in 1961. Elected to the post that same year by voters in the 23rd Ward, Turk has returned to the council every election since.

Last year, atop of coalition of black and white factions in the Cuyahoga County Democratic Party, Turk was elected president, and at first he seemed a middleman destined to end intraparty struggling.

But other Democrats, both on and off council, have expressed unhappiness in the months since. He has been criticized both for working with the Republican city administration and for not enforcing party discipline harshly enough.

His acceptance of Gov. John Gilligan's appointment to the PUCO Thursday also clears the way for a harder line Democrat to assume the council leadership.

Turk will not be expected to surrender all his participation in local politics, however. As chairman of PUCO, Turk will be the highest-ranking member of the Gilligan administration with strong ties to heavily Democratic Cleveland.

Turk said he expects to "continue serving the people of the 23rd Ward and the people of Cleveland as well as the people of Ohio" in his new office.

"Although I will live in Columbus, I will be visiting my home here on weekends," he said.

But his most important function,

Turk stressed, will be the job of PUCO head.

Turk was named to the post Thursday by Gov. John Gilligan to fill the vacancy created last week when the Ohio Senate rejected the appointment of Henry Eckhart to a six-year term.

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Columbus, said the Senate will vote on Turk's appointment "within a month or so."

He said he doubted there will be any problem in confirming the appointment. "He doesn't have a track record, so what do you look at?" Gray observed.

Eckhart had held the position about two years before the Senate confirmation vote. The 17 Republicans in the chamber claimed the commission under Eckhart's leadership was not handling utility rate cases fast enough to the detriment of utility companies who needed additional revenues.

MY MINUTE MESSAGE

HAVE YOU CHOSEN THE CROSS TO FOLLOW JESUS?

This is an important question which Jesus explains in (Mt. 10:37-38) "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me." Christ's love must have first place in your life. The Apostle Paul chose the way of the cross and lived victoriously (Ga. 6:14). But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world."

In the cross of Christ I glory. Towering o'er the wrecks of time:
All the light of sacred story Gathers round its head sublime.

—John Bowring

The Apostles, when brought before the council, answered in obedience to the cross (Acts 5:29) "We ought to obey God rather than men." Obedience to the cross excludes all conforming to worldliness with its indecent fashions, immorality, adulterous and idolatrous living. (Ro. 12:2) "Be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God." A cleansed heart and mind gives forth glory for the cross of Christ. (1 Co. 11:14, 15) "Doth not nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given to her for a covering." The preaching of the cross, though not popular, is precious and powerful to deliver your soul from perishing. (1 Co. 1:18) "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." Take heed dear reader be not among those who refuse the way of the cross. (Ph. 3:18, 19) "For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are enemies of the cross of Christ; whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is their shame, who mind earthly things." We entreat you, dear friend, turn from the ways of the world and take the blessed way of the cross. Jesus said, (Mt. 5:10) "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

D. L. Conrad, Pastor, of The Ray Ave. Mission, Circleville, Ohio

Ohio Weather Summary
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A weak storm centered over eastern Lake Superior this morning and moving toward the upper St. Lawrence Valley and trailing a low pressure trough was expected to bring cloudy skies to northern Ohio through Saturday.

The approach of a new storm from the Central Plains will force the low pressure trough back north Saturday, but bring cloudy skies, in turn, to central and southern Ohio.

Skies were cloudy overnight in northern Ohio, but clear over the remainder of the state. Lows dipped well into the 30s under the clear skies, but strong winds minimized formation of frost.

No precipitation was recorded overnight, although radar reported light rain starting to fall in parts of northern Ohio, then apparently evaporating before it hit the ground.

Sewage Treatment Resumes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The city's waste water treatment plant was in partial operation today after a ruptured pipeline sent millions of gallons of raw sewage spewing into the Maumee River.

City officials said rain and the high level of Lake Erie, into which the river empties, had diluted the sewage some.

Chlorination of the sewage was scheduled to begin today, said Greg Sautter, of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency's northwest office.

The pipeline break occurred Wednesday in a $20 million addition to the plant still under construction by the C. & C. Bohrer Construction Co. of Ft. Wayne, Ind., city officials said.

As a result, Sautter said more than 60 million gallons of untreated sewage was dumped into the river and eventually into the lake.

EPA officials said they will look into the situation during the next few days.

REMOVE INJURED—Ross County rescue personnel remove Gary Botts, 22, Euclid, from the wreckage of his friend's car after the vehicle plowed into a school bus 9:35 a.m. Thursday which pulled into the path of the car about a mile south of the Pickaway-Ross County line on Route 23. James Smith, 19, Columbus, driver of the car, and Andrew Brodhead, 22, Cleveland, another passenger, were taken to Columbus hospitals in critical condition following the accident. Bus driver Stanley Davis, 59, Route 1, Chillicothe, and Botts were taken to Chillicothe Hospital. Ross County Highway Patrolmen said Davis pulled his empty Zane Trace school bus from Blackwater Rd. into the path of the Smith car.

Defendant Removed From Room

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James C. Hardy, 31, who heads a group called "Solving Black Problems Now," was removed from the courtroom Thursday while his trial on burglary charges continued. Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William R. Matthews restrained Hardy for shouting out during the testimony of a prosecuting witness. J. Simpson Mathis, an employee of Reliable Loan Co., said he, with a policeman, discovered Hardy in the building Nov. 18, 1972, with a bag of burglary tools in his possession. Hardy was removed after shouting that a burglary tool charge had been ignored by the grand jury. "This whole trial is nothing but a ripoff," shouted Hardy. "I won't stay here and have my constitutional rights violated." Matthews then ordered Hardy removed. The trial continued today.

AF Medic Free Pending Review

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—1st Lt. Bruce Ashley, the pacifist doctor who was educated on an Air Force scholarship and then refused to perform military duties, was released from jail Thursday pending a review of his conviction for disobeying orders. Brig. Gen. Irby Jarvis, commander of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, granted Ashley an excess leave, the military's version of an unpaid leave of absence. Ashley's conviction will be reviewed by Jarvis and then by higher command levels. His sentence of discharge from the service, 18 months in prison and $25,000 fine can be reduced by each higher level headquarters, but not increased. Ashley, 26, a Louisville, Ky., native, was convicted by a panel of officers Wednesday of two counts of disobeying orders.

UMW Changes Emphasis From Wages

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The United Mine Workers' new president says the union's next industry-wide contract, to be negotiated in 1974, will be a sharp departure from past contracts.

Less attention will be paid to increased wages, Arnold Miller said in an interview in this morning's editions of The Charleston Gazette, and more will go to mine safety, benefits and new arbitration and grievance procedures.

The coal industry in the past few years has been plagued with wildcat strikes that have cut into miner productivity and boosted mining costs.

Miller blames most wildcat strikes on grievances the miners have against coal operators and says most of them "could have been prevented if the operator would have just lived within the contract."

"One coal operator recently said to me that he thought we ought to live up to the contract and I said I'd like for you to point out to me where one coal company ever lived up to a contract that has been negotiated since I've been a member of this union."

Contracts have been written in such language that the average coal miner doesn't understand the grievance and arbitration procedures, he said.

And the present contract is "written in such loose language ... we get beat every time, because we try to interpret the contract the way we think it is and they (the industry) will come up with something else."

Miller climbed to the union office formerly held by W. A. "Tony" Boyle from the union's rank-and-file. He gained prominence in 1969 when rank-and-file miners defying the non-involvement of their own union marched on the West Virginia Legislature and forced it to enact compensation for black lung, the incurable lung disease caused by breathing coal dust.

With that background, he promises that contracts he negotiates will be ratified by a vote of every union member, and with that backing "We will enforce the provisions of this contract."

New Spacecraft Heads To Jupiter

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Pioneer 11 spacecraft raced on a near-perfect course today for Jupiter, with a chance it later might explore the ringed planet Saturn.

The 570-pound, $48 million payload rocketed away from Cape Kennedy Thursday night on a 620-million-mile interplanetary trail which its twin, Pioneer 10, started blazing 13 months ago.

Pioneer 10 is to fly within 87,000 miles of Jupiter next December, while Pioneer 11 a year later is to scout a different area of this largest planet in the solar system.

Scientists hope they will find support for a theory that Jupiter has hidden beneath its swirling clouds chemical elements which constitute the building blocks of life.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported after Thursday night's launch that the nation's newest space probe would require only a brief motor firing on Monday to put it on target.

"Pioneer is on the way," the flight control center announced after an Atlas-Centaur rocket drilled the craft into space at 31,100 miles an hour, tying it with Pioneer 10 as the fastest traveling man-made space object.

2nd Crash Fatal To Cleves Man

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Robert R. James, 29, of Cleves, was killed Thursday night when he smashed head-on into a truck on U.S. 52 west of Cincinnati.

Law officers said the impact knocked the truck into the side of a vacant house which was severely damaged.

Investigators said James apparently had been involved in a minor accident moments before and was leaving it when he and the truck collided.

Citizen Catches Gasoline Thieves

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department arrested two juveniles 8 p.m. Thursday after Rex Ater, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, caught them siphoning gasoline from a car parked at Point Inn on Route 62.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now able to take care of the duties that are difficult to perform during the busy work week. Your loved one is very amiable now. This can be very happy evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Follow through with the ideas of associates and make big headway. Ask an important friend for the backing you need. Take the treatments that will improve your health. Maintain harmony.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can tackle a job now that was difficult to do in the past. Shop for the new items of clothing that will make you look more charming. Arrive on time for an important appointment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have fine ideas and can get ahead and gain your finest aims. Try a new approach where an old problem is concerned and you solve it properly. Engage in social activity tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can now come to a far better understanding with those who live with you if you bend your efforts. A new activity will give you more security. Avoid anything too strenuous. Be alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your mind is busy thinking about how to have better rapport with those you like. Don't take that know-it-all attitude, but let there be a nice exchange of views. Be courteous.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can come to a better understanding with others if you show the good, fun-loving side of your nature. Your loved one can be most pleasing at this time. Avoid people who gossip.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people with an inquisitive mind. You, as parents, will be answering questions all the time during childhood. Make it a point to have interesting puzzles around for best results. Give as fine an academic education as you can, since there is great promise here. Sports are very good for the health here.

Gilligan Moves To Spend 'Extra' $118 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan has described a $118 million windfall the state stands to receive as being a result of his administration's tax reforms and a "super heated" Ohio economy.

He announced at a news conference Thursday that revised estimates of tax receipts — especially the personal income tax — show they will provide an additional $118 million in the 1973-1975 biennium.

The governor proposed spending almost half of the new money ($55 million) for local public schools and dividing the remainder among state universities, $34.7 million; local mental health programs, $7.2 million; state employee benefits, $3.5 million; increased payments in Aid to Dependent Children, $13.7 million, and local Community Action programs under threat of federal shutdown, $4 million.

Gilligan said he plans to send the proposals in the form of a substitute budget bill to the legislature next week. It would boost proposed state spending in the next two years to more than $9.8 billion.

Republican leaders were prompt to criticize Gilligan for bringing in a "new" budget after the House Finance Committee has held hearings on the original proposal for two months. House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, called it "an affront to the legislature."

The former Republican speaker also noted that Gilligan did nothing to correct "obvious inequities" in the state income tax, although the governor now is in a position to know what the total biennial revenues will be.

The governor said he received the revised revenue figures on Tuesday of this week, and that those in the original document were based on figures that were available at the time it was drafted last November. "We didn't have the revenue figures for the last quarter of last year, much less the first quarter of this year," he said.

Not all the new estimates showed projected increases.

The governor said declines in the state sales tax of $7 million next year and $38 million in 1975 are included in the projections along with drops of $6 million and $9.1 million, next year and in 1975 in cigarette tax revenue.

He attributed the big drop in the sales tax to predictions "from Detroit that this will be a big year for cars, but that sales will drop in late 1974 and go much lower in 1975."

To account for the $118 million total, Gilligan cited sales taxes this year $23.5 million more than expected, along with an additional $20.1 million from the personal income tax. Over the next two years, the governor said the state income tax figures to bring in a total of $88.3 million more than expected and the corporate income tax $22.5 million more.

Gilligan said all the estimates were based on "the best figures available. We didn't find this money in the basement. We are just saying that it will be there."

The measure Gilligan will send the legislature will call for increased state subsidies for elementary and secondary education to assure all school districts of an increase of five per cent in each of the next two years.

The $34.7 million he is proposing for the universities is short of boosting their subsidy increases to the 6.5 per cent they are asking, but will hike them to five and one half per cent and place a freeze on student fees for the next two years. At least one university already has voted to increase fees as a result of the administration's refusal until now to provide more money.

Gilligan said his proposal to increase payments to ADC recipients "doesn't call for more dollars for welfare." He said a "tapering off" of new ADC caseloads, from about 5,000 to 3,000 a month made the action possible.

The $4 million Gilligan would channel to local Community Action groups through the Department of Economic and Community Development would not underwrite their various programs, Gilligan said. He said it is intended to allow them "to retain their structures for a year."

pending federal budget decisions in Washington.

Leonard Arcilesi, president of the Ohio Education Association, said the governor's proposal would be a great help to schools with special financial needs.

He said the proposal was "tremendous news to school districts that face a loss in state funds due to changes in local tax duplicates and those that would have received no increase in money for next year."

Harold Enarson, president of Ohio State University, said the governor's proposal would now seemingly allow the state's institutes of higher education to keep pace with inflation.

18-Year-Olds Rights Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Newly-enfranchised 18-year-olds would receive all the legal rights of adults but one under a measure up for a vote in the State Senate next Tuesday.

Missing from the bill this time is a provision that would have allowed them to purchase liquor and high-powered beer—a provision that killed the measure in the House last year after it passed the Senate May 30.

Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, is again the sponsor of the measure which would allow the youthful citizens to marry without consent, sue and be sued, enter into contracts, and acquire debts, among other things.

Aronoff said he deleted the provision on liquor in a belief it was the only way to get the bill through the legislature.

There have been reports that it may be re-inserted at some point in the deliberations. Before lawmakers adjourned for the weekend Thursday, senators passed three bills and sent them to the House. They would permit the University of Akron to sell a parcel of land, allow Ohioans who lease their automobiles to purchase special reserved license plates, and let recipients of war orphan scholarships attend the state university of their choice. All three passed by votes of 30-0.

The House approved and sent to the Senate a measure authorizing the destruction of probate court records after 21 years instead of the present 32 years. The vote was 63-13. Representatives also concurred in Senate amendments and completed passage of a measure requiring the state to pay for railroad crossing safety installations.

Among eight new bills received in the House were proposals to appropriate $4.3 million for state lawmakers to hire administrative assistants and secretaries and to adopt a uniform statewide law requiring the vaccination of dogs against rabies.

New Senate bills included a proposal by Sen. Walter L. White, R-12 Lima, prohibiting the occupancy of trailers while they are on highways.

In other developments, the Senate and House agreed on April 18 as a cutoff date for the introduction of bills. Members still could introduce bills afterward, but would need the approval of a majority of the members of their respective chambers.

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, predicted floor action in the House April 17 on the administration's two-year budget bill, but his comments came before an announcement by Gov. John Gilligan that he was sending a substitute budget to the legislature next week.

Gilligan told a news conference that revised estimates of the state's revenues in the 1973-1975 biennium show Ohio will have an additional $118 million. Gilligan proposed spending the new money on public education, welfare, state employees, and other programs he thinks could be expanded.

Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, chairman of the House Finance Committee, scheduled a meeting of the panel Tuesday. Three subsections of the committee have been considering the budget proposals for more than two months.

Wounded Knee Agreement Reached; In Effect Saturday

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Militant Indian leader Russell Means heads for Washington under arrest today to meet with federal officials under provisions of a peace agreement ending the 37-day siege of Wounded Knee. Indians who held the village are scheduled to lay down their arms Saturday.

Means, head of the American Indian Movement, and three other representatives of the insurgent Indians will meet in the capital Saturday with Leonard Garment, special consultant to President Nixon. They will discuss the need for and the workings of a presidential treaty commission.

Appeal Teen Traffic Convictions

An appeal questioning a point of law has been filed in behalf of 16-year-old Charles Ellyson Jr., of Route 2, Ashville.

The juvenile was arrested by Alva Boyer, Ashville marshal, for failing to stop for a stop sign, reckless operation and fleeing a police officer and was found guilty in Juvenile court on Feb. 16. His license was suspended for a year with provisions for driving to work only and he was fined $50.

Notices of appeal were filed by Arthur Lee Davis, sent March 20 to serve a 10 to 25 year term in the Ohio Penitentiary. He had been convicted by a jury of armed robbery.

Also appealing a local court judgment is Salvatore Lee Monti, found guilty of check forgery. He is also serving a penitentiary sentence. His wife Sandra entered a plea of guilty to a similar charge, but sentence was withheld pending completion of a presentence investigation. Monti was sentenced Feb. 21.

The six-point agreement ending the siege was signed late Thursday by the AIM leaders and Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Kent Frizzell. In addition to Means' trip to Washington, the pact calls for:

—The Indian militants to leave Wounded Knee, submit to arrest and be taken to Rapid City for arraignment as soon as word is received that the Washington meeting is under way at 9 a.m. EST Saturday;

—A federal investigation of Indian affairs on the Pine Ridge Reservation, where some 11,000 Oglala Sioux live, and an audit of tribal funds;

—The Justice Department to consider and—where appropriate—bring civil suits to protect legal rights of individual Oglala Sioux Indians against unlawful acts by the tribal or federal governments;

—A presidential treaty commission to re-examine the 1868 treaty with the Sioux nation;

—And a meeting in Washington next month between Indian leaders and White House representatives to discuss Indian affairs.

Means surrendered to federal officials after the peace agreement was signed. He was arraigned later in Rapid City, S.D., before U.S. Magistrate James Wilson.

After his release, Means complained about restrictions placed by the magistrate on his activities. He also said the 2 1/2 hour closed bail hearing "shows that the white man still refuses to listen" and added that the remaining Indians at Wounded Knee "won't be coming out until we have complete results."

SPRING IS HERE SALE!

You can clear out all those weeds at the same time you feed your lawn!

What better way to clear out lawn weeds than to do it easily, surely... and economically. TURF BUILDER PLUS-2, Scotts weed-n-feed, does just that. A simple spreader application knocks out dandelions, clover, and 16 other non-grass weeds at the same time it fertilizes your lawn. It's a prolonged feeding too, the kind that builds thicker turf. Results are amazing — as weeds disappear, the fertilized grass grows sturdier and greener, filling in those places where the weeds were.
